

ADJUTANT SINGLE HANDEDLY BEATS GERMANS BACK ACROSS THE RHINE!

The Ardennes offensive or "Battle of the Bulge" was quashed single handedly after General Bradley unleashed operation "You Go" on the axis troops. Apparently Matt Carroll snuck into the enemy camp disguised as a local push cart vendor and delivered a concoction the Army is only calling "V-1 Rocket Juice" to the German Troops the night before the final battle. The following day the German Troops failed to show up ultimately retreating behind the Rhine. Some German Troops escaped in rubber rafts ultimately making it to the Pacific Ocean on nothing but 2 loaves of wunderbread, a bottle of schnapps and a Nazi flag for a sail.

Enlisted Men Announce Joint Business Venture to be called "Bubba Gump" Shrimp

PFC's Forrest Gump and Bubba Turner of the 9th announce their plans to open a fleet of shrimp boats to operate out of Fort Mott, N.J.

Male Hormone Substituted for Saltpeter Causing Facial Hair Outbreak!

Apparently a shipment of Saltpeter destined for the mess hall was exchanged with an experimental male hormone replacement drug causing accelerated facial hair growth (see below photos). Commander Gianobile was unavailable for comment as he was preparing a firing squad for the German Unabomber that was apprehended at the Devil's Den the previous night.

MOUSTACHE WAX

• Beake's Stacholine

is a patented substance for strengthening and training the moustache of all sorts and various conditions of men for any length of time in any position. Do not be fooled by inferior substitutes.

L.G. Beake, Hairdresser

